Josh Lee is set to be ordained a transitional deacon on Tuesday 29 June, 11am at the Rapid City Cathedral. All are invited.

Josh: I never thought about the priesthood until age 25. It wasn't something that I really understood or even considered. It was about the time I got to Faith to be an ag salesman and thought this was really appealing and this is something that God might want me to look into. I taught confirmation at St. Joseph's in Faith. Getting to know the people and getting to teach their children was so affirming.

I've got a routine in my prayer life. Each morning I wake up with an offering and the pray the Year of St. Joseph prayer. Then I sit down and begin with the Liturgy of the Hours and the readings with a cup of coffee. It gets me started spiritual and physically. Then I pray morning prayer with the other seminarians and attend Mass. Throughout the day, praying the liturgy of the hours and trusting those little moments to Jesus and Mary — trying to give everything to them from classes to hang nails. I do a mid-afternoon and evening rosary. Keeping not only my intentions but those intentions of the diocese as well. At the end of the day, I look back to see where God has been because it's really easy to miss him. Just before I go to sleep — walking to my bed — I am asking Him to deliver me from evil.
