

St. Katherine Drexel
 (1858-1955) a holy woman, generous and inspirational, visited SD in 1886. A monstrance she donated to St. Francis Mission in Rosebud Reservation is with us today. When Mass concludes, please stay for 10 minutes of Eucharistic Adoration.

Inspired during retreat 2022
 When God's chosen people were hungry
 As they wandered in desert lands.
 Moses heard God give a promise
 To feed them with heavenly bread.

When Jesus was healing and teaching
 Hungry people, of body and soul,
 He multiplied bread and fed them:
 The sign of God's Kingdom had come.

And they asked him, give us this food,
 He said, "I am the living bread;
 Those who eat my flesh & drink my blood
 Shall have eternal life."

The Risen Lord Jesus is with us
 In this Eucharistic feast,
 The Calvary sacrifice holy
 Received in His Body and Blood.

The Real Presence of Jesus Christ
 He Is here: His love abides.

"Come to me," Jesus said, "When you're weary;
 Take my yoke and learn from me."
 We adore this wond'rous Presence:
 "I am with you forever more."

Reconciled by his dying and rising,
 Transformed by Jesus the Lord,
 The gateway to heaven is open:
 Communing in God's saving love.

St. Katharine Drexel's stepmother suffered for three years with terminal cancer. Watching her suffer made Katharine realize money can't buy you an escape from pain or from death. This was a major turning point in her life. God would soon set her on a new path. A few years later, Katharine traveled with her family to the Western states, and she saw firsthand the plight of the Native Americans. She was appalled by their treatment and condition. She knew she would have the means to help them, but she would need the Lord's help to do it. Katharine's father died in 1885 when she was in her mid-twenties. In order to protect his daughters from ruthless men only seeking to get to their money through marriage, he set up his will so their inheritance would go to children or grandchildren upon their deaths. If there were no children, the money would be split up and distributed to several named charities. In the end, the sisters shared an estate that in today's money would be worth about $400 million. Can you imagine the temptation that must have caused? One of the first things the Drexel sisters did with their inheritance was contribute money to the St. Francis Mission on the Rosebud Reservation in South Dakota. Soon they traveled to Europe and were granted a private audience with Pope Leo XIII. They asked him for missionaries to help at some of the missions for Native Americans they were supporting. Instead, he suggested Katharine become the missionary. She later established her own religious congregation, the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament, in Pennsylvania. They dedicated their lives to helping Native and African Americans in the Western and Southwestern U.S. That work included opening boarding schools, staffing missions, and financing projects. In all, she established 145 missions, 50 schools for African Americans and 12 schools for Native Americans. Sr. Katharine died March 3, 1955, at 96. She was canonized in 2000

Special Collection for the Bishops Emergency Disaster Fund October 22nd & 23rd - As a result of Hurricane Ian's havoc – first across Cuba and the Dominican Republic and then the southeast US starting in Florida – lives have been lost and many Church properties, along with homes and businesses, have been severely damaged or destroyed. This followed the impact of Hurricane Fiona, which caused devastation across Puerto Rico and other parts of the Caribbean. Our partners at Catholic Charities USA, and Catholic Relief Services and its local partners are responding with food, water, and sanitation assistance, and will eventually assist with the repair and rebuilding of homes.
